Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1 – 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as based on a disclosure which is not enabling. Claim 1 appears to not recite a “fifth signal generator” (nor is that supported by the drawings) that is critical or essential to the practice of the invention, is not enabled by the disclosure. See In re Mayhew, 527 F.2d 1229, 188 USPQ 356 (CCPA 1976). Accordingly, the claimed invention is subject to undue experimentation and the skilled artisan would not know how to make and/or use the invention. Claims 2 – 11 which depend upon claim 1 are necessarily rejected.

Furthermore, it is not readily clear as to the support for the “sixth signal generator ... indicating a distance zone ... for an operational distance” (claim 1) and as to claims 12 and 18, with regard to the determination of “zone of operation ... for said system operation.” Claims dependent from claim 12 are necessarily rejected for their dependency.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Buechele et al. (US 6,836,717 B2) teaches related vehicle low speed collision avoidance.
